SUBJECT: Weekly Activities Report #36, 4 - 10 October 1961

1. Intelligence Review

a. Intelligence Review #3, now in its second week, is acting as an effective catalyst. Guest speakers and panels have emphasized problems common to the Agency and the contributions that various departments are making toward their solution.

b. Each of the seminar groups has selected its topic for discussion and is preparing its presentation. Apparently, the seminars are producing two results: a valuable interchange of opinions among representatives from different offices and a piece of constructive criticism.

2. Intelligence Orientation

Intelligence Orientation #48 is scheduled to begin Friday, 3 November with an advanced enrollment so far of 23 students. Exhibitors and USIB agencies are being notified this week of the change in the exhibit date from 9 November to 8 November. (Because of the 10 November holiday).
